

“Nesting Bald Eagles”

Paul Motts, CVNP (retired)

Abstract

Bald Eagles are an ever increasing sight throughout northeast Ohio as they continue to establish new territories along Lake Erie and major river systems. This program will reveal the fascinating courtship and nesting behavior of these magnificent birds of prey.

Bio

Paul Motts currently resides in Bethel Maine where he works as a freelance and volunteer naturalist. Paul worked as an Interpretive Park Ranger with the National Park Service for 30 years. He has also worked as a naturalist and education programmer for the Quebec Labrador Foundation in New Brunswick Canada and with Massachusetts Audubon Society.